

Overview

DURAPOLS® Agro Groundcover is a kind of fabric used mainly for weed control either in the agriculture or gardening field, likewise to keep soil temperature and humidity. It is a permeable material, therefore it allows water percolation through it so that it avoids surface run-off. In addition to this we limit the usage of pesticides so that we can be able to develop organic farming.

Taking into account we are reducing soil evapotranspiration we will achieve remarkable water saving. Due to its UV treatment, it guarantees its lifespan. It is quite common seeing this material installed as well in many nurseries, seedling facilities and greenhouses, and lately for many fruit orchards with subtropical species and citrus, among others.

Other details

DURAPOLS® Agro Groundcover is a flat woven material made up with PP raffia tape, mainly in two different weights:

- » 100 g / sqm
- » 130 g / sqm

Likewise it can be used as previous layer before installation of artificial grass or artificial turf. Occasionally it is used as camping ground canvas. It is compatible with Velcro® for a better installation for other applications.
