

Overview

DURAPOLS® Agro HDPE Transparent Coated Fabric is waterproof flat woven fabric, made up with raffia tape; with a LDPE coating (1 or 2 sides). Due to the architecture of the fabric it offers an excellent tearing resistance and durability in comparison to greenhouse plastic films. It is used frequently to cover sidewalls of horticulture greenhouses.

You will see it often placed on various types of installations for table grapes, kiwi or cherries, etc. so that we protect the crops from pernicious weather agents such as rainfalls. Phenomena such as "cracking" make the fruit be sensitive to rot. Thus, it involves important economic losses during the harvesting seasons. Likewise it helps increasing "greenhouse effect", so that it generates precocity process, protecting against external agents.
